

Active Shooter Prevention Seminar

Training Designed to Prevent Workplace Violence

The Active Shooter Prevention Seminar provides public and private organizations with the most advanced training in identifying and preventing workplace violence. Whether it be a disgruntled former employee, mass attacker, or violent extremist, this training helps organizations prevent violence before it occurs. The key topics include techniques for identifying and assessing potential threats, prevention strategies for curbing would-be actors, and mitigation methods for reducing risk to an organization. Ultimately, one tragedy is too many and whether it be a complex coordinated terrorist attack, a disgruntled employee, or a lone wolf who targets a public gathering, this seminar helps prepare organizations and private security personnel to safeguard their workplace.
